The feeblest week that I remember

Apr. 30. a month of great debility and exhaustion - pain of body & distress of mind. Not out of the house more than 6 or 8 times.

April 15. Very feeble for 3 weeks past. Arteries of the wrists considerably ossified and probably so through the system. The heart. Stomach. colon. and other viscera I believe are affected more or less in the same way - transverse colon & Stomach often much distended and hard. with rumbling noises great uneasiness in those parts & under the left ribs - tightness across the chest. throat quite inflamed - head & eyes much disordered. back & hips very painful and weak. Sudden & frequent turns of stupor, with a dreamy bewildered state of the brain frequent sensations of choaking. These & other symptoms seem to indicate a crisis not very remote.

Apr. 17. '50 - no alleviation. very costive

19 - medicine has produced vomiting but weakens nerves - food not unpalatable - but oppressive. sleep not much disturbed a few nights past.

20 - The preceding symptoms not alleviated general debility encreased -
